SENATE PASSES CURRENCY BILL

Every Democratic Vote Is in Favor of Measure.

ROLL CALL RESULTS 54 TO 34

Six Republicans and One Progressive Also Fall in Line With the Majority on Final Action—Senator Hitchcock Previously Offers Substitute Bill Which Is Lost by the Close Vote of 44 to 41.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The administration currency bill, as perfected by the Owen subcommittee and ratified by the Democratic caucus, passed the senate by a vote of 54 to 34. Every Democratic senator present and voting, including Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, was recorded in favor of the bill.

Six Republicans voted for it—Crawford and Sterling of South Dakota, Jones of Washington, Norris of Nebraska, Perkins of California and Weeks of Massachusetts. Senator Poinsett, Progressive, of Washington, also voted for the bill.

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin voted against it, as did Senators Nelson and Clapp of Minnesota.

When the result was announced there was enthusiastic, even uproarious applause on the Democratic side and in the galleries.

Wide differences exist between the form of the legislation passed by the senate and the bill that passed the house several months ago. Democratic leaders already have partly adjusted these differences, however, and it was predicted the bill would be completed by a conference committee and sent to President Wilson for his signature by Monday night.

There was a surprisingly close vote on the Hitchcock bill, offered by the senator from Nebraska as a substitute for the administration bill. The Hitchcock bill was reported to the senate by the five Republicans, including Senator Nelson, who make up the minority of the banking and currency committee, and by Senator Hitchcock. It lost, 44 to 41.

Vote Against Hitchcock Bill.

All of the Republicans and Senator Hitchcock and Senator Poinsett, Progressive, voted for it. The forty three votes cast against it were by Democrats.

Immediately after the announcement was made that the bill had passed the senate nine conferees were named to act on behalf of the senate on the conference committee to adjust the differences between the senate and house bills.

Because of a rivalry among the Democrats of the committee for places on the conference committee it finally was decided that all of the Democratic members of the senate banking and currency committee, except Senator Hitchcock, who had no desire to serve, should be conferees.

Three Republicans were named—Bristow, Nelson and Crawford. The Democratic members are Senators Owen, O'Gorman, Reed, Pomeroy, Shafroth and Hollis.

Among the chief points of difference between the house and senate are the following:

The house provided for twelve regional banks; the senate for "from eight to twelve," discretion being left to the federal reserve board.

The senate added a provision creating a fund to guarantee the deposits of failed banks that are members of the reserve association.

The house limited the discount of commercial paper at the regional banks to that maturing in ninety days; the senate provided that 180-day agricultural paper could be accepted under certain limitations.

Gold Reserve Requirement.

The gold reserve required of the regional reserve banks against circulating notes was placed at 33 1/3 per cent by the house and at 40 per cent by the senate.

Banks would be permitted to loan on five-year farm mortgages by the senate bill; on one-year mortgages by the house bill.

Senator La Follette proposed two amendments just before the bill came to a vote which caused a mild sensation. One of them was written into the bill and the other rejected by an overwhelming majority.

The first provided that "no United States senator or representative in congress shall be a member of the federal reserve board, a director in a federal reserve bank or an officer or director of any member bank."

This amendment was adopted without a roll call. The second amendment provided that no member of the federal reserve board, any officer or member of a regional or member bank, should be a director or officer of any other bank, trust company or insurance company.

This, Senator La Follette said, was desired to prevent the "money trust" from getting control of the new system through interlocking directors.

Senator Owen declared he favored prohibitions against interlocking directorates, but that the La Follette amendment would destroy much of the effectiveness of the new law. It was defeated—51 to 30.

WILL NOT CALL EXTRA SESSION

Governor Refuses to Summon Wisconsin Legislature.

MINISTERS VERSUS DOCTORS

Clergymen Say Eugenic Marriage Law Will Lead to General Uplift of Future Generations and Physicians Maintain Examination Fee Is Too Small and Declare They Will Refuse Professional Services.

Milwaukee, Dec. 20.—"There is absolutely no likelihood for the calling of a special session of the legislature to consider the so called eugenic marriage law," said Governor F. E. McGovern.

This puts an end to the adverse criticisms which have been directed at the bill as the time draws near for its enforcement—Jan. 1.

Ministers said that the measure will lead to a general uplift of the future generations and base all their argument on the ethical side, while the doctors take a practical opposition that the $3 fee for examination of all male prospective bridegrooms, as allowed by the law, is far too small and that they will refuse to make the examinations.

Louis Widule, Milwaukee county clerk, said that he would refuse to grant marriage licenses to any man after Jan. 1 unless he had a health certificate.

WILL BE TRIED THIRD TIME

Publishers of Jim Jam Jems Hopeful of Acquittal.

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 20.—Clark & Crockett, publishers of Jim Jam Jems of Bismarck, will have a third trial in Fargo on Jan. 14.

Indicted by the federal grand jury for the publication of obscene matter the jury in the first trial disagreed. The second convicted, recommending the defendants to the mercy of the court. Judge Willard of Minnesota, who presided, was expected to impose a fine, but sentenced both men to the penitentiary. A new trial was secured. The defendants assert that Judge Willard erred because he admitted only excerpts and not full sentences, paragraphs and the complete articles from the publication.

As a result of a recent United States court decision, requiring the full text of articles in which there are objectionable phrases to be presented to the jury, the defendants anticipate a favorable result at the next hearing.

DEITZ IS SEEKING FREEDOM

Attorney Asks for Habeas Corpus Writ in Federal Court.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 20.—Attorney General Walter C. Owen has been served with an application of John F. Deitz, the so called hero of Cameron dam, now in state's prison, for a writ of habeas corpus from the federal court of the Eastern district. The application will be heard Dec. 27 at Milwaukee by Judge F. E. Geiger.

When the application was made Judge Geiger decided to hear arguments as to the reasons why the writ should be issued. The peculiarity of the application is that Deitz seeks aid from the federal court for release from state's prison.

The application was made by W. G. Anderson, an attorney of Chicago. Deitz began his life sentence at Wau-pun on May 13, 1911. He is fifty-two years of age.

MINNESOTA G. O. P. MEETING

Chairman May Call State Committee Together Feb. 12.

Minneapolis, Dec. 20.—Edward E. Smith of Minneapolis, chairman of the Republican state central committee, announced that he probably will call a meeting of that organization in St. Paul Feb. 12 to ratify the changes in apportionment of delegates to national conventions recommended by the national committee at its recent conference in Chicago.

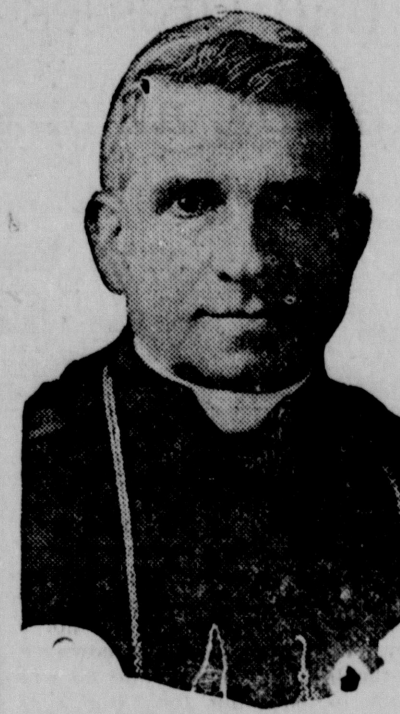

Mr. Smith says that he does not believe a state convention is necessary to pass on the matter, but that he will confer with Chairman Hilles of the national committee regarding the proper procedure should there be any doubt.

SQUARE FOOT OF GROUND COSTS $307 IN GOTHAM.

New York, Dec. 20.—A new record price for New York city land is established in a transaction just recorded for a plot 73.4x100 feet, located at Fifth avenue and Forty-second street. The price was $2,250,000, which is equivalent to $307 a square foot.

DESIRES PROBE OF KEOKUK POWER DAM

Representative Rainey Introduces Resolution in House.

Washington, Dec. 20.—An investigation into the ownership and management of the power dam now in operation in the upper Mississippi river between Keokuk, Ia., and Hamilton, Ill., which may have an important bearing on future legislation in congress relating to the disposition of water power sites, is proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, a Democrat.

Navigation interests in St. Paul and other cities on the upper river were in part instrumental in inducing Mr. Rainey to offer the resolution of inquiry. Some weeks ago complaints came from St. Paul that the dam at Keokuk is a menace to navigation on the upper Mississippi; that the company operating it erected a bridge over the river at that point without the authority of congress and that the company is imposing excessive charges for power.

PRESIDENT WILL GO SOUTH

Wilson to Spend Two Weeks at Pass Christian, Miss.

With prospects bright for having the currency bill out of the way by Monday the president expects to leave Washington for the South about Tuesday. He will be accompanied by his family and hopes to spend two weeks in quiet, away from business and public affairs.

LIVELY BOUT AT MILWAUKEE

Charlie White Has Best of Go With Ad Wolgast.

Milwaukee, Dec. 20.—Charlie White of Chicago, by brilliant boxing and hard lefts, shaded Ad Wolgast of Cadillac, Mich., in their ten-round no-decision boxing contest here. The large crowd was kept at the highest point of excitement all during the battle, which proved to be one of the best ever held here.

The Chicago boy had the better of the second, fifth and eighth rounds, with slight shades in the third, fourth and ninth. Wolgast led in the sixth, while the first, sixth, seventh and tenth were even.

Wolgast entered the ring a favorite and was cheered by a great crowd which packed the arena. White was also greeted lustily by his many Chicago friends present.

ADVOCATES USE OF SLANG

Professor O'Shea of Wisconsin Advises Its Use.

Los Angeles, Dec. 20.—A warm endorsement of the use of slang, not only by pupils, but by teachers as well, was given by M. Vincent O'Shea, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, in addressing the institute of the southern section of the California Teachers' association. "Slang is the natural development in the method of expression of the human race and it should be used by teachers as well as by pupils," he said.

Duke of Orleans Hurt.

Brussels, Belgium, Dec. 20.—The Duke of Orleans, pretender to the throne of France, broke his arm while skating in an ice rink here. He collided with another skater so violently that both were unconscious for a few minutes.

SEEK SUCCESSOR TO WILSON IN 1916

Politicians Busy Selecting Most Promising Candidates.

INCUMBENT A FAVORITE NOW

Many Democrats Assert That Nothing Can Prevent Him From Succeeding Himself—Congressman Points Out "Foolish Treaties"—Difficult to Distinguish Good and Bad Lobbyists.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Although the present administration has not been a year in power, there has been a great deal of speculation concerning what will happen in 1916 and who will be Wilson's successor or whether or not he will be his own successor. It is the custom in this country to speculate upon the future.

"Nothing can keep Woodrow Wilson from succeeding himself," say many Democrats, in spite of the one term declaration in the Democratic party. And yet it may be that the health of the president a few years hence will interpose the objection which that platform makes. In that case what would happen? There is a good, wide field of speculation for political prophets. Or if the president should not live out his term—such a contingency would upset all preconceived political situations.

Reaction Setting In.

Only a short time ago it was as good as a political death warrant to prove that a man was reactionary in his view. Roosevelt put many a man down and out with such a charge. And to be progressive meant that a man could win in politics. Radically progressive made a man's election sure. But there is a decided reactionary sentiment in congress. Men have begun to wonder just how far they ought to go.

A great many men from the south are beginning to ask how far the new dispensation—the elimination of state lines, the introduction of nation wide primaries and such other interesting features of politics and legislation—will carry them. The pendulum is swinging the other way.

Bungling Treaties.
It happens so often that about the time this government wants to do something it finds itself hampered by treaty obligations in which foreign diplomats have tied our fledgling international lawyers into bowknots that make men writhe and criticize.

"When a paper agreement gets in the way of the march of events it speeds itself out of the way," said Congressman Sherley in the house one day. "We ought not to make foolish treaties. It seems to me absurd to think that a few men sitting around a table and coming to an agreement with each other have brought great nations into an agreement. Such is not the case, never has been and never will be."

"Insidious Lobby."

President Wilson may have done good work in calling attention to the "insidious lobby," although it will be hard to distinguish between a good and bad lobby. If a man is lobbying for some "uplift" he is a patriot. If he opposes that "uplift" he is certainly "insidious" in the minds of many people. If a man is working for himself he is a lobbyist; if for conservation, prohibition, labor and many of the different propositions which are called reforms, then he is a patriot. At the same time there has been altogether too much lobby business in Washington.

Described by Borah.

In a recent speech Senator Borah had something to say of these lobbyists. "There is no government where such insidious influence upon false and specious pleas is so effective as in Washington and upon congress, where arrangements are made that the people know nothing about until they have gone into effect. I know that is a strong statement to make, but I shall not change it."

Slayden to Hobson.

A short time after Hobson of Alabama had his almost fight with Jerry Donovan of Connecticut he was standing in the corridor talking with a large number of New England temperance people. Along came Slayden.

"Hobson," said the Texan, "I'm mighty glad to see that if you are going to lick somebody it's a Yankee."

"Sh-h, sh-h!" said Hobson and waved him away.

No Wilderness.

Knute Nelson was concluding a long speech on the currency question. "I am glad that in all I have said here," he remarked, "I am like the prophet of old, calling in the wilderness—the Democratic wilderness."

Schools and Reindeer.

For many years there has been maintained in Washington a bureau of education. As the United States is not engaged in school work, like states and municipalities, this bureau never seemed to find real usefulness until it was assigned educational work in Alaska. Coupled with educational work has been the introduction of reindeer into that great territory, and so the bureau of education might well be called the bureau of schools and reindeer in Alaska.

APPEALS DIRECT TO PRESIDENT HUERTA

O'Shaughnessy Secures Release of Three Americans.

Mexico City, Dec. 20.—By appealing directly to General Huerta, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge, obtained from him almost immediate unequivocal consent to the release of three Americans now in jail, whose liberation has long been delayed by legal maneuvering. The men ordered set free by General Huerta are H. J. Kidder, William Krause and John Parker.

It developed, apparently, that General Huerta had known nothing of the incarceration of the men or efforts that had been made by Mr. O'Shaughnessy to procure their release.

Made impatient by the long series of evasions and excuses given him from other quarters O'Shaughnessy risked incurring the displeasure of minor officials and found Huerta apparently willing and anxious to demonstrate by the order for release his intention to indulge in fair play.

HALF OF LIFE IN PRISON

Aged Chicago Thief Is Sent Up for One Year.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—The last survivor of Chicago's first fully organized band of criminals who flourished a generation ago under the picturesque Mollie Mott passed from the stage, probably forever, when Michael Sage, white of hair and showing every one of his sixty-three years, made no defense against a sentence of one year in the Chicago house of correction. His active days are over, in the opinion of the police, even if he lives out his sentence.

Half of Sage's life has been spent in prison. He began stealing when he was twelve years old and never learned anything else.

"I was a good thief," he said with an appearance of pride as he straightened his rheumatic form and looked at Judge Wade.

MRS. ALBERT PATRICK DEAD

Worked Twelve Years to Free Husband From Prison.

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Albert T. Patrick, whose husband served twelve years in Sing Sing prison as the alleged murderer of William Marsh Rice, died here. Patrick and their children were at the bedside.

Mrs. Patrick, as Mrs. Addie M. Francis, was married to Patrick soon after his conviction for the murder of Rice. For the ensuing twelve years she devoted her time and expended $50,000 in efforts to prove Patrick's innocence and gain a pardon for him.

JURY FIXES TEETH VALUE

Gives Man Damages of $750 for Loss of Ten.

Minneapolis, Dec. 20.—Twelve jurors decided that each tooth of a man forty years old is worth $75 in awarding a verdict of $750 to John Nettle against Frederick Johnson, foreman for the Flour City Ornamental Iron works. The complaint alleged that Johnson had struck Nettle, entailing the loss of ten teeth.

Evidence showed that during an altercation Johnson, weighing 300 pounds, had struck Nettle a blow in the face, causing the loss of the teeth and a fractured jaw.

Woman Named Register.

Washington, Dec. 20.—President Wilson nominated as register of the land office at Denver, Mrs. Mary Wolfe Dargis.

Wealthy Milwaukee Man Crashed Into Buggy With Auto.

Milwaukee, Dec. 20.—Roman Schubert, twenty-six years old and wealthy, was found guilty of murder in the fourth degree and sentenced to one year in prison for running down and killing Mabel Lohman, four years old, with an automobile.

Schubert, according to witnesses, was driving along a country highway at a fast rate in September. His machine crashed into a buggy in which the girl and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Lohman were riding. Mabel was killed almost instantly, while the mother was severely injured.

RAM CHARGES REFLECTION

Lands in Basement of Church and Causes Panic Among Women.

Langdon, N. D., Dec. 20.—When a ram, owned by Nemo Liebler, saw its reflection in the basement window of the Presbyterian church he immediately charged what appeared to him to be a worthy adversary. He landed in the Presbyterian church kitchen, where women were preparing a dinner, and for a few moments there was a wild scramble for safety.

WETS AND DRY TOGETHER

Both Work for Prohibition in Southern California.

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—It was found that saloonists in San Francisco and their opponents in Los Angeles are seeking signatures to the same petition for total prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants in Southern California.

Liquor men backing the measure here expect to give it a trouncing at the polls from which it will take long to recover.

PRESIDENT SIGNS HETCH HETCHY BILL.

Washington, Dec. 20.—President Wilson signed the Hetch Hetchy bill, granting a public water supply to San Francisco. American Company Sidesteps Dissolution Litigation.

LET'S GO OF WESTERN UNION

Plan for Reorganization Originates With American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Meets With the Hearty Approval of President Wilson and Department of Justice Officials.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Attorney General McReynolds made public details of an agreement for the reorganization of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, "the telephone trust," which will prevent litigation to dissolve that corporation under the anti-trust act.

Under the provisions competitive conditions will be restored in the telephone service of the entire country and the combine will dispose of its holdings in the Western Union company.

The reorganization plan originated with the company, although it followed many reports that a suit against it might be filed. It was regarded by department of justice officials as the most striking indication offered in a decade that "big business" has come to the conclusion that it is better to follow the Sherman law than fight it.

President Approves Plan.

The plan met not only the approval of the attorney general and his chief "trust buster," G. C. Todd, and officials of the subsidiaries of the company, but was approved heartily by President Wilson.

Coming after the announcement that Postmaster General Burleson is interested seriously in government ownership of telephone lines the action of the department of justice took an added significance. Some officials went so far as to express the opinion that it indicates legislation to acquire the country's telephone business will not be pressed by the administration at the present session.

In brief the agreement provides that:

That the American Telephone and Telegraph company will dispose promptly of its holdings in the Western Union Telegraph company so that each concern shall be under distinct management and so that all shall be entirely independent.

To Cease Acquiring Lines.

The company hereafter will not acquire control of other telephone companies and where control of telephone companies has been acquired, but no actual physical union has been effected, the American Telephone and Telegraph will submit the course it is to pursue to the interstate commerce commission and to the department of justice.

The company will make arrangements promptly by which all other telephone companies in the United States shall have access to its toll lines.

Department officials declared that the plan gave the government everything and more than it could have hoped to obtain in court.

Officials were pleased with the agreement giving long distance service to subscribers of other companies. They did not deny that they never had hoped to gain such a point by suit.

GIFT TO LOS ANGELES POOR

Council Votes $1,500 a Month to Relieve Those Out of Work.

Los Angeles, Dec. 20.—As a Christmas present to the poor of the city and a measure of relief for candidates for employment the city council voted to appropriate $1,500 a month for three months.

The appropriation was the outcome of a demand by several civic and labor bodies that the city and county of Los Angeles provide $1,000,000 to be used in giving employment on public work to the city's unemployed, estimated by Chief of Police Sebastian to number 20,000.

JURY INVESTIGATES STRIKE

More Than 200 Arrests Made During Disorders in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Dec. 20.—The grand jury began an investigation of the garmentmakers' strike which has been in progress here for eighteen weeks. The strike has been accompanied by much disorder and in the last two months more than 200 strikers have been arrested, but most of them have been discharged in police court on the ground that the evidence did not show disturbances of the peace.

WILL NOT CALL EXTRA SESSION

Governor Refuses to Summon Wisconsin Legislature.

MINISTERS VERSUS DOCTORS

Clergymen Say Eugenic Marriage Law Will Lead to General Uplift of Future Generations and Physicians Maintain Examination Fee Is Too Small and Declare They Will Refuse Professional Services.

Milwaukee, Dec. 20.—"There is absolutely no likelihood for the calling of a special session of the legislature to consider the so called eugenic marriage law," said Governor F. E. McGovern.

This puts an end to the adverse criticisms which have been directed at the bill as the time draws near for its enforcement—Jan. 1.

Ministers said that the measure will lead to a general uplift of the future generations and base all their argument on the ethical side, while the doctors take a practical opposition that the $3 fee for examination of all male prospective bridegrooms, as allowed by the law, is far too small and that they will refuse to make the examinations.

Louis Widule, Milwaukee county clerk, said that he would refuse to grant marriage licenses to any man after Jan. 1 unless he had a health certificate.

WILL BE TRIED THIRD TIME

Publishers of Jim Jam Jems Hopeful of Acquittal.

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 20.—Clark & Crookard, publishers of Jim Jam Jems of Bismarck, will have a third trial in Fargo on Jan. 14.

Indicted by the federal grand jury for the publication of obscene matter the jury in the first trial disagreed. The second convicted, recommending the defendants to the mercy of the court. Judge Willard of Minnesota, who presided, was expected to impose a fine, but sentenced both men to the penitentiary. A new trial was secured. The defendants assert that Judge Willard erred because he admitted only excerpts and not full sentences, paragraphs and the complete articles from the publication.

As a result of a recent United States court decision, requiring the full text of articles in which there are objectionable phrases to be presented to the jury, the defendants anticipate a favorable result at the next hearing.

DEITZ IS SEEKING FREEDOM

Attorney Asks for Habeas Corpus Writ in Federal Court.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 20.—Attorney General Walter C. Owen has been served with an application of John F. Deitz, the so called hero of Cameron dam, now in state's prison, for a writ of habeas corpus from the federal court of the Eastern district. The application will be heard Dec. 27 at Milwaukee by Judge F. E. Geiger.

When the application was made Judge Geiger decided to hear arguments as to the reasons why the writ should be issued. The peculiarity of the application is that Deitz seeks aid from the federal court for release from state's prison.

The application was made by W. G. Anderson, an attorney of Chicago. Deitz began his life sentence at Wau-pun on May 13, 1911. He is fifty-two years of age.

Minneapolis, Dec. 20.—Edward E. Smith of Minneapolis, chairman of the Republican state central committee, meeting that he probably will call a meeting of that organization in St. Paul Feb. 12 to ratify the changes in apportionment of delegates to national conventions recommended by the national committee at its recent conference in Chicago.

Mr. Smith says that he does not believe a state convention is necessary to pass on the matter, but that he will confer with Chairman Hilles of the national committee regarding the proper procedure should there be any doubt.

DESIRES PROBE OF KEOKUK POWER DAM

Representative Rainey Introduces Resolution in House.

Washington, Dec. 20.—An investigation into the ownership and management of the power dam now in operation in the upper Mississippi river between Keokuk, Ia., and Hamilton, Ill., which may have an important bearing on future legislation in congress relating to the disposition of water power sites, is proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, a Democrat.

Navigation interests in St. Paul and other cities on the upper river were in part instrumental in inducing Mr. Rainey to offer the resolution of inquiry. Some weeks ago complaints came from St. Paul that the dam at Keokuk is a menace to navigation on the upper Mississippi; that the company operating it erected a bridge over the river at that point without the authority of congress and that the company is imposing excessive charges for power.

PRESIDENT WILL GO SOUTH

Wilson to Spend Two Weeks at Pass Christian, Miss.

Washington, Dec. 20.—President Wilson will spend his winter vacation at Pass Christian, Miss. With prospects bright for having the currency bill out of the way by Monday the president expects to leave Washington for the South about Tuesday. He will be accompanied by his family and hopes to spend two weeks in quiet, away from business and public affairs.

LIVELY BOUT AT MILWAUKEE

Charlie White Has Best of Go With Ad Wolgast.

Milwaukee, Dec. 20.—Charlie White of Chicago, by brilliant boxing and hard lefts, shaded Ad Wolgast of Cadillac, Mich., in their ten-round decision boxing contest here. The large crowd was kept at the highest point of excitement all during the battle, which proved to be one of the best ever held here.

The Chicago boy had the better of the second, fifth and eighth rounds, with slight shades in the third, fourth and ninth. Wolgast led in the sixth, while the first, sixth, seventh and tenth were even.

Wolgast entered the ring a favorite and was cheered by a great crowd which packed the arena. White was also greeted lustily by his many Chicago friends present.

ADVOCATES USE OF SLANG

Professor O'Shea of Wisconsin Advises Its Use.

Los Angeles, Dec. 20.—A warm endorsement of the use of slang, not only by pupils, but by teachers as well, was given by M. Vincent O'Shea, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, in addressing the institute of the southern section of the California Teachers' association. "Slang is the natural development in the method of expression of the human race and it should be used by teachers as well as by pupils," he said.

SEEK SUCCESSOR TO WILSON IN 1916

Politicians Busy Selecting Most Promising Candidates.

INCUMBENT A FAVORITE NOW

Many Democrats Assert That Nothing Can Prevent Him From Succeeding Himself—Congressman Points Out "Foolish Treaties"—Difficult to Distinguish Good and Bad Lobbyists.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Although the present administration has not been a year in power, there has been a great deal of speculation concerning what will happen in 1916 and who will be Wilson's successor or whether or not he will be his own successor. It is the custom in this country to speculate upon the future.

"Nothing can keep Woodrow Wilson from succeeding himself," say many Democrats, in spite of the one term declaration in the Democratic party. And yet it may be that the health of the president a few years hence will interpose the objection which that platform makes. In that case what would happen? There is a good, wide field of speculation for political prophets. Or if the president should not live out his term—such a contingency would upset all preconceived political situations.

Reaction Setting In.

Only a short time ago it was as good as a political death warrant to prove that a man was reactionary in his view. Roosevelt put many a man down and out with such a charge. And to be progressive meant that a man could win in politics. Radically progressive made a man's election sure. But there is a decided reactionary sentiment in congress. Men have begun to wonder just how far they ought to go.

A great many men from the south are beginning to ask how far the new dispensation—the elimination of state lines, the introduction of nation wide primaries and such other interesting features of politics and legislation—will carry them. The pendulum is swinging the other way.

Bungling Treaties.

It happens so often that about the time this government wants to do something it finds itself hampered by treaty obligations in which foreign diplomats have tied our fledgling international lawyers into bowknots that make men writhe and criticize.

"When a paper agreement gets in the way of the march of events it speeds gets out of the way," said Congressman Sherley in the house one day. "We ought not to make foolish treaties. It seems to me absurd to think that a few men sitting around a table and coming to an agreement with each other have brought great nations into an agreement. Such is not the case, never has been and never will be."

"Insidious Lobby."

President Wilson may have done good work in calling attention to the "insidious lobby," although it will be hard to distinguish between a good and bad lobby. If a man is lobbying for some "uplift" he is a patriot. If he opposes that "uplift" he is certainly "insidious" in the minds of many people. If a man is working for himself he is a lobbyist; if for conservation, prohibition, labor and many of the different propositions which are called reforms, then he is a patriot. At the same time there has been altogether too much lobby business in Washington.

Described by Borah.

In a recent speech Senator Borah had something to say of these lobbyists: "There is no government where such insidious influence upon false and specious pleas is so effective as in Washington and upon congress, where arrangements are made that the people know nothing about until they have gone into effect. I know that is a strong temptation to make, but I shall not change it."

Slayden to Hobson.

A short time after Hobson of Alabama had his almost fight with Jerry Donovan of Connecticut he was standing in the corridor talking with a large number of New England temperance people. Along came Slayden. "Hobson," said the Texan, "I'm mighty glad to see that if you are going to lick somebody it's a Yankee." "Sh-h, sh-h," said Hobson and waved him away.

No Wilderness. Knute Nelson was concluding a long speech on the currency question. "I am glad that in all I have said here," he remarked, "I am like the prophet of old, calling in the wilderness—the Democratic wilderness."

"There is no Democratic wilderness," interjected John Sharp Williams; "there is a Democratic highway."

Schools and Reindeer.

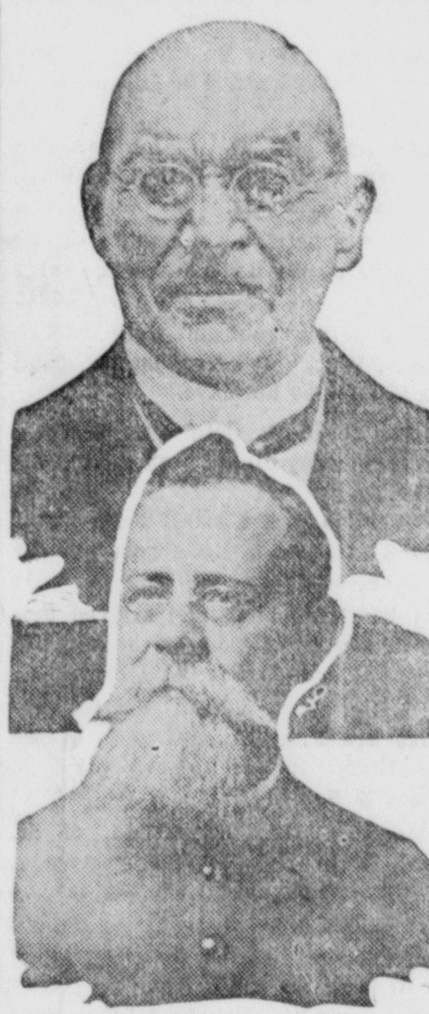

For many years there has been maintained in Washington a bureau of education. As the United States is not engaged in school work, like states and municipalities, this bureau never seemed to find real usefulness until it was assigned educational work in Alaska. Coupled with educational work has been the introduction of reindeer into that great territory, and so the bureau of education might well be called the bureau of schools and reindeer in Alaska.

HUERTA AND CARRANZA.

APPEALS DIRECT TO PRESIDENT HUERTA

O'Shaughnessy Secures Release of Three Americans.

Mexico City, Dec. 20.—By appealing directly to General Huerta, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge, obtained from him almost immediate unequivocal consent to the release of three Americans now in jail, whose liberation has long been delayed by legal maneuvering. The men ordered set free by General Huerta are H. J. Kidder, William Krause and John Parker.

It developed, apparently, that General Huerta had known nothing of the incarceration of the men or effort, that had been made by Mr. O'Shaughnessy to procure their release.

Made impatient by the long series of evasions and excuses given him from other quarters O'Shaughnessy risked incurring the displeasure of minor officials and found Huerta apparently willing and anxious to demonstrate by the order for release his intention to indulge in fair play.

HALF OF LIFE IN PRISON

Aged Chicago Thief Is Sent Up for One Year.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—The last survivor of Chicago's first fully organized band of criminals who flourished a generation ago under the picturesque Mollie Mott passed from the stage, probably forever, when Michael Sage, white of hair and showing every one of his sixty-three years, made no defense against a sentence of one year in the Chicago house of correction. His active days are over, in the opinion of the police, even if he lives out his sentence.

Half of Sage's life has been spent in prison. He began stealing when he was twelve years old and never learned anything else. "I was a good thief," he said with an appearance of pride as he straightened his rheumatic form and looked at Judge Wade.

MRS. ALBERT PATRICK DEAD

Worked Twelve Years to Free Husband From Prison.

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Albert Patrick, whose husband served twelve years in Sing Sing prison as the alleged murderer of William Marsh Rice, died here. Patrick and their children were at the bedside.

Mrs. Patrick, as Mrs. Addie M. Francis, was married to Patrick soon after his conviction for the murder of Rice. For the ensuing twelve years she devoted her time and expended $50,000 in efforts to prove Patrick's innocence and gain a pardon for him.

JURY FIXES TEETH VALUE

Gives Man Damages of $750 for Loss of Ten.

Minneapolis, Dec. 20.—Twelve jurors decided that each tooth of a man forty years old is worth $75 in awarding a verdict of $750 to John Nettle against Frederick Johnson, foreman for the Flour City Ornamental Iron works. The complaint alleged that Johnson had struck Nettle, entailing the loss of ten teeth.

Evidence showed that during an altercation Johnson, weighing 300 pounds, had struck Nettle a blow in the face, causing the loss of the teeth and a fractured jaw.

Schubert, according to witnesses, was driving along a country highway at a fast rate in September. His machine crashed into a buggy in which the girl and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Lohman were riding. Mabel was killed almost instantly, while the mother was severely injured.

American Company Sidesteps Dissolution Litigation.

LET'S GO OF WESTERN UNION

Plan for Reorganization Originates With American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Meets With the Hearty Approval of President Wilson and Department of Justice Officials.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Attorney General McReynolds made public details of an agreement for the reorganization of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, "the telephone trust," which will prevent litigation to dissolve that corporation under the anti-trust act.

Under the provisions competitive conditions will be restored in the telephone service of the entire country and the combine will dispose of its holdings in the Western Union company.

The reorganization plan originated with the company, although it followed many reports that a suit against it might be filed. It was regarded by department of justice officials as the most striking indication offered in a decade that "big business" has come to the conclusion that it is better to follow the Sherman law than fight it.

President Approves Plan.

The plan met not only the approval of the attorney general and his chief "trust buster," G. C. Todd, and officials of the subsidiaries of the company, but was approved heartily by President Wilson.

Coming after the announcement that Postmaster General Burleson is interested seriously in government ownership of telephone lines the action of the department of justice took an added significance. Some officials went so far as to express the opinion that it indicates legislation to acquire the country's telephone business will not be pressed by the administration at the present session.

In brief the agreement provides that:

That the American Telephone and Telegraph company will dispose promptly of its holdings in the Western Union Telegraph company so that each concern shall be under distinct management and so that all shall be entirely independent.

To Cease Acquiring Lines.

The company hereafter will not acquire control of other telephone companies and where control of telephone companies has been acquired, but no actual physical union has been effected, the American Telephone and Telegraph will submit the course it is to pursue to the interstate commerce commission and to the department of justice.

The company will make arrangements promptly by which all other telephone companies in the United States shall have access to its toll lines.

Department officials declared that the plan gave the government everything it wanted and more than it could have hoped to obtain in court.

Officials were pleased with the agreement giving long distance service to subscribers of other companies. They did not deny that they never had hoped to gain such a point by suit.

GIFT TO LOS ANGELES POOR

Council Votes $1,500 a Month to Relieve Those Out of Work.

Los Angeles, Dec. 20.—As a Christmas present to the poor of the city and a measure of relief for candidates for employment the city council voted to appropriate $1,500 a month for three months.

The appropriation was the outcome of a demand by several civic and labor bodies that the city and county of Los Angeles provide $1,000,000 to be used in giving employment on public work to the city's unemployed, estimated by Chief of Police Sebastian to number 30,000.

JURY INVESTIGATES STRIKE

More Than 200 Arrests Made During Disorders in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Dec. 20.—The grand jury began an investigation of the garmentmakers' strike which has been in progress here for eighteen weeks. The strike has been accompanied by much disorder and in the last two months more than 200 strikers have been arrested, but most of them have been discharged in police court on the ground that the evidence did not show disturbances of the peace.

COUTLER'S QUEER STORY.

It Was Thought He Had Discovered Hades, but He Hadn't.

At a gathering in Milwaukee a well known minister was called on to tell a story, and this is what he told: "Did you ever hear of Coulter's hell? Of the two men lost by the great Lewis and Clark expedition of 1803 on its long journey through the northwest one was a man named Coulter. He was captured by Indians, who stripped him and set him to running the gantlet.

"Outriggering their blows, he snatched a spear from the last Indian, killed him with it and ran into the mountains naked and wounded, but at last free and armed. Wandering toward the southeast, he presently found himself in a land where the forces of nature appeared to have gone mad together. Rivers from which he sought to drink ran hot water, boiling fountains gushed hundreds of feet in the air, volcanoes of black mud vomited at him, bubbling fountains of snow white mud gushed around, with others of crimson and blue and green. A mountain of pure sulphur crystals rose on one hand, and from beside a stream rose another composed of black glass almost as clear as a window pane.

"At last, escaping from the place, he was found by some trappers, who clothed him and took him to St. Louis, where they reported him as one whose mind had been wrecked by his experiences. Wherever he told of the frightful country which he swore he had seen men roared with mirth at the yarn and made him tell and retell it till within a few years it went all over the west as an example of the effect of the horrors of being lost on the human mind. It was commonly known as 'the story of Coulter's hell,' and under that name it frequently appeared in the eastern papers in the early thirties and forties. Coulter himself finally died regarded to the last as a hopeless maniac.

"And then in 1869 some Montana trappers wandered into the region and came back with the astounding tale that Coulter had told the truth and had never been insane at all. The government immediately rushed soldiers and scientists into the country, and before long it became the Yellowstone National park. And that is the story of Coulter's hell."—Milwaukee Journal.

NERVE IN BASEBALL.

Result of a Wild Throw to Third With the Bases Full.

Charley Doolin, one of the famous catchers of the National league, tells a story to the effect that after a brief trial with the St. Paul club in 1888 Charles A. Comiskey, then its manager, advised him to return to the tailoring business and stick to it.

Another yarn concerning Doolin tells how a little later on and when he was still little more than a youth and weighing in the neighborhood of 115 pounds, he wished himself upon Manager McKibben of the St. Joseph club. When Doolin reported Mac walked around him twice and then announced that he wanted a catcher and not a jockey. Injuries to regulars, however, gave the boy his chance, and he was sent in to backstop for "Big Jim" Wiggs.

In his first game Doolin wanted to prove that in addition to being a catcher he was some thrower. When he heaved to second the baseman would have needed a ladder to get the ball; to third his legs were low, and his shoots to first nearly took the sacker off his feet. After his wild throws had filled the bases in one inning he threw to third again to catch a runner off the cushion. The ball went so high the left fielder almost got to it on the fly, while "everybody came home."

When the inning was over Doolin had four errors charged against him, and he walked to the clubhouse and began to pack up his clothes. McKibben stopped him, saying his nerve in daring to throw to third to catch a man off with the bases full, caused by his previous bad throws, deserved another chance. Doolin stuck and caught almost every game that season. His next jump was to the Phillies, and his reputation was made.—Ed A. Goewey in Leslie's.

LIQUOR SELLING TO MINORS AIRED

VOTE ON LICENSE REVOCATION

3 Ayes, 6 Nays and 1 Excused on the Vote—Hearing Lasts Three Hours Last Night

The city council has taken a decided stand against the selling of liquor to minors and has shown its willingness to cooperate with the authorities in every possible way to see that the law is enforced. The Bedford saloon license, at a former meeting, was revoked after a hearing that liquor had been sold to minors. The next saloon keeper to be hauled over the coals is Joseph Zimmer, proprietor of the National hotel.

Zimmer's case was brought to the attention of the authorities when two boys, Donald Simmons and Clifford O'Connor, were arrested for drunkenness and at the hearing in municipal court divulged where they had secured liquor. Later their affidavits were also taken and other evidence secured. On these charges Mr. Zimmer was haled before the council last night. He was represented by Alderman Clark, Mr. Alderman appearing at the council meeting.

As showing the trend of the council's ideas there was first introduced a new ordinance, No. 257, which was given its first reading and which provides that the annual saloon license in Brainerd shall be $1,000, taking effect on and after July 1. Alderman Mahlum was not present when the first vote was taken. The council voted 8 ayes on the first reading, and one nay, the latter being Alderman Stallman.

Then the Zimmer case was made a special order of business and taken up. Donald Simmons was called to the stand by City Attorney D. A. Haggard. Simmons said he was 18 years old. He said that he got a pint of whiskey at the National hotel bar on the afternoon of December 11, 1913. Clifford O'Connor was with him. In the evening, on his second visit to the place, he got two glasses of beer over the bar. He had never been there before or after this incident. Clifford O'Connor was with him in the evening and he got a glass of beer. Simmons said he told the bartender he was 21.

Attorney Alderman then examined the witness. Simmons said he went into the hotel bar room about 6 in the evening. He was alone. A short bartender had served him. Mr. Alderman had two of the National bartenders stand up to be identified by Simmons. He said neither one had been back of the bar. The porter and Zimmer had not served him. Simmons said he had not seen the man before or since. He got a pint of whiskey at 6 in the evening. There were two or three men in the saloon. Johnny Shea was in the saloon drinking a glass of beer.

Simmons said he told the bartender who waited on him that he was 21 years old and that his name was Art Johnson. He got the whiskey and passed out by way of the back door. He and O'Connor had come from the country. They had been driving and it was a cold day. At 8 o'clock in the evening they again went to the saloon and he and O'Connor passed in at the front door. Simmons shook a couple of games of dice with the bartender and then he got another half pint of whiskey. He was in the saloon about ten minutes.

In reply to a question, Simmons said he could always get some friend to secure liquor for him. He pointed out the bartender who served him with whiskey on the first visit. This same bartender, he said, was back of the bar in the evening and he identified the man. He shook dice with him and got some beer.

Simmons was then turned over to the council for examination.

"Didn't you see the signs which said no minors are allowed in saloons?" asked Alderman Lagerquist.

"Yes, I saw them," said Simmons.

"When you went into the saloon didn't you think of what your mother would say if she heard of it?" asked Alderman Lagerquist.

"No, I never thought of that," said Simmons.

Clifford O'Connor took the stand. O'Connor said he was 18 years old. He was with Simmons on the day of December 11th last. He remained in the rig in the alley near the National hotel while Simmons went in and later, that is about in three minutes, returned with a big bottle of booze. O'Connor sampled it and said he knew it was whiskey. On the second visit to the saloon they got beer. Some one had "set them up." O'Connor said he had been in the saloon a year ago. Zimmer was not running the saloon then. He did not get drunk, but Simmons was "stewed" at about 9 or 10 o'clock. They were out until 2 in the morning, he thought.

Attorney Alderman then examined O'Connor. O'Connor and Simmons had drunk up the pint of whiskey before 8 o'clock. He did not know who had bought the beer. He knew enough not to go down the main street in Brainerd holding a bottle of whiskey in his hand. He heard Simmons tell the bartender that he was 21 years old and that his name was Art Johnson.

John Shea was called to the stand. He said he saw Simmons get a half pint of whiskey and a glass of beer. Shea is 23 years of age and is not the size of either of the two boys.

Shea was examined by Attorney Alderman. Shea said he knew the bartender he had seen on the boys' first visit and could identify him. Shea said he had gone into the National to tell Zimmer that a woman in the alley did not want her boy, a dishwasher, to be in the saloon. Attorney Alderman asked Shea if he used drugs, which the witness denied. Mr. Alderman asked Shea if he had used the words, "They (meaning bartenders at the National), got their hot heads up and he would show them something," which he denied.

City Attorney Haggard asked the name of the dish washer boy and Shea said it was Davis. Shea said the mother of the boy had told him to tell Zimmer to keep her boy out of the saloon.

Capt. N. W. Olson said he saw O'Connor and Simmons at 12:30 in the evening and they were intoxicated. He had seen Simmons drunk before. Simmons had the reputation of getting drunk.

Mr. Alderman examined Capt. Olson and the latter admitted that the National hotel bar was an orderly one. Two complaints about Simmons and O'Connor had reached the police department. The proprietor of a pool room (Alderman Hess) had complained of their being disorderly and raising a disturbance.

Alderman Hess said both boys were drunk.

Capt. Olson said he had been informed at 6 o'clock and later that the boys were drunk.

Joseph Zimmer, proprietor of the National hotel, was put on the stand and the defense then had its inning. Mr. Zimmer said the boys had turned their faces from him when they passed out. He asserted positively that the porter had asked their ages. He had instructed bartenders in all cases to inquire for ages and that if there was any doubt, even when legal age was claimed, that no liquor was to be served. He said Shea came to him and said somebody had gone out and that the dishwasher was going to be "pinched." Shea had come in and had said, "I'll put you wise about something." Shea was drunk, said Mr. Zimmer. He told Shea to go out on that account. Shea, said Zimmer, (Continued on page 4)

BOTH WERE DRAMATIC.

A Story of Frederick the Great and One of His Officers.

Frederick the Great had a strong sense of the dramatic. So had a certain lieutenant colonel in the Prussian army. Accordingly there is plenty of "plot" in the following story:

The officer, who had been discharged at the close of the Seven Years' war, impudently the king to be reinstated. Weary of the incessant solicitations of his troublesome visitor, Frederick at last gave orders that he should never be admitted to his presence.

Some weeks later a most bitter libel against his majesty appeared. Frederick seldom gave himself any concern about such pasquinades, but the present one exasperated him so much that he offered a reward of 50 Friedrichs of gold for the discovery of the author.

The day following the disgraced lieutenant colonel demanded and obtained an audience.

"Sire," he began, on being admitted, "your majesty has just promised 50 Friedrichs for the discovery of the author of a recent publication. I am come to claim the recompense. Behold in me the unfortunate libeler. My life I forfeit freely, but remember your royal pledge and, while you punish me, send to my poor wife and children the reward due to the informer."

The king, although struck with the sad extremity and self sacrifice of the officer, said sternly:

"Go instantly to the fortress of Spandau and there await my judgment."

"I obey," said the culprit; "but the money?"

"Within two hours your wife shall receive it," said the king. "Take this letter and give it to the commandant, but he must not open it until after dinner."

The lieutenant colonel arrived at Spandau and gave himself up as a prisoner. At the prescribed moment the commandant opened the royal mandate. It ran:

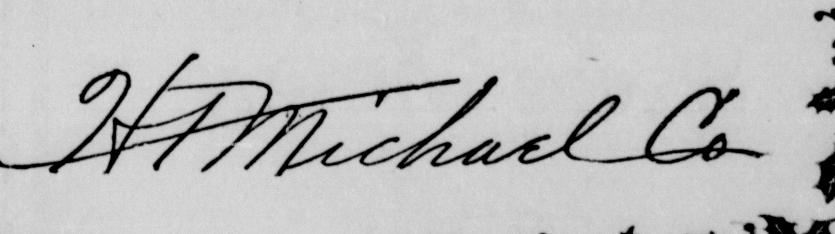

To the bearer I give the command of Spandau. I shall be with him in a few days. The present governor is to take the command of Berlin as a reward for past services. FREDERICK.

ADZUMAN CLUB ELECTS

New Officers for 1914 and Plans Several Pleasure Trips for the Coming Summer Months

The Adzuman Club, an organization of all the members of the Mystic Shrine in this city to the number of 40 or 50, held their annual meeting on Thursday evening at their club rooms in the Iron Exchange building and elected the following officers:

President—Dr. A. W. Ide.
Vice President—Carl Zapffe.
Second Vice President—N. H. Ingersoll.

Recorder—G. W. Chadbourn.
Treasurer—George W. Grewcox.

After the election of officers and the auditing of accounts for the past year the meeting was made a social session, the "Pipe of Peace" was smoked and plans laid for some special features during the remaining months of winter and pleasure trips during the summer. Special mention of the souvenir pipes is due Noble Zapffe as the decorations, done in oil, not only added to the appearance but seemed to penetrate to the clouds of smoke ascending from the Henry Clay bowl, and the handiwork was his own. It is the intention of the Nobles to entertain in an elaborate way at one or two special occasions during the next month, announcement of which will be made at a later date when the arrangements are completed. It was also decided to have at least two picnics during the summer months, and when Shriners start out they sure can have a picnic, one to the north and one to the south, at Hubert and Mille Lacs lakes. It was also the expressed desire of those present that the sleigh ride of January 1, 1913, be repeated, but as there is no snow on the ground and none visible in the air that proposition will have to be left open until conditions warrant the attempt, when the sleigh ride will happen with an oyster supper at the terminal point.

LIQUOR SELLING TO MINORS AIRED

VOTE ON LICENSE REVOCATION

3 Ayes, 6 Nays and 1 Excused on the Vote—Hearing Lasts Three Hours Last Night

The city council has taken a decided stand against the selling of liquor to minors and has shown its willingness to cooperate with the authorities in every possible way to see that the law is enforced. The Bedard saloon license, at a former meeting, was revoked after a hearing that liquor had been sold to minors. The next saloon keeper to be hauled over the coals is Joseph Zimmer, proprietor of the National hotel.

Zimmer's case was brought to the attention of the authorities when two boys, Donald Simmons and Clifford O'Connor, were arrested for drunkenness and at the hearing in municipal court divulged where they had secured liquor. Later their affidavits were also taken and other evidence secured. On these charges Mr. Zimmer was haled before the council last night. He was represented by Alderman Clark, Mr. Alderman appearing at the council meeting.

As showing the trend of the council's ideas there was first introduced a new ordinance, No. 257, which was given its first reading and which provides that the annual saloon license in Brainerd shall be $1,000, taking effect on and after July 1. Alderman Mahlum was not present when the first vote was taken. The council voted 8 ayes on the first reading, and one nay, the latter being Alderman Stallman.

Then the Zimmer case was made a special order of business and taken up. Donald Simmons was called to the stand by City Attorney D. A. Haggard. Simmons said he was 18 years old. He said that he got a pint of whiskey at the National hotel bar on the afternoon of December 11, 1913. Clifford O'Connor was with him. In the evening, on his second visit to the place, he got two glasses of beer over the bar. He had never been there before or after this incident. Clifford O'Connor was with him in the evening and he got a glass of beer. Simmons said he told the bartender he was 21.

Attorney Alderman then examined the witness. Simmons said he went into the hotel bar room about 6 in the evening. He was alone. A short bartender had served him. Mr. Alderman had two of the National bartenders stand up to be identified by Simmons. He said neither one had been back of the bar. The porter and Zimmer had not served him. Simmons said he had not seen the man before or since. He got a pint of whiskey at 6 in the evening. There were two or three men in the saloon. Johnny Shea was in the saloon drinking a glass of beer.

Simmons said he told the bartender who waited on him that he was 21 years old and that his name was Art Johnson. He got the whiskey and passed out by way of the back door. He and O'Connor had come from the country. They had been driving and it was a cold day. At 8 o'clock in the evening they again went to the saloon and he and O'Connor passed in at the front door. Simmons shook a couple of games of dice with the bartender and then he got another half pint of whiskey. He was in the saloon about ten minutes.

In reply to a question, Simmons said he could always get some friend to secure liquor for him. He pointed out the bartender who served him with whiskey on the first visit. This same bartender, he said, was back of the bar in the evening and he identified the man. He shook dice with him and got some beer.

Simmons was then turned over to the council for examination.

"Didn't you see the signs which say no minors are allowed in saloons?" asked Alderman Lagerquist.

"Yes, I saw them," said Simmons. "When you went into the saloon didn't you think of what your mother would say if she heard of it?" asked Alderman Lagerquist.

"No, I never thought of that," said Simmons.

Clifford O'Connor took the stand. O'Connor said he was 18 years old. He was with Simmons on the day of December 11th last. He remained in the rig in the alley near the National hotel while Simmons went in and later, that is about in three minutes, returned with a big bottle of booze. O'Connor sampled it and said he knew it was whiskey. On the second visit to the saloon they got beer. Some one had "set them up." O'Connor said he had been in the saloon a year ago. Zimmer was not running the saloon then. He did not get drunk, but Simmons was "stewed" at about 9 or 10 o'clock. They were out until 2 in the morning, he thought.

Attorney Alderman then examined O'Connor. O'Connor and Simmons had drunk up the pint of whiskey before 8 o'clock. He did not know who had bought the beer. He knew enough not to go down the main street in Brainerd holding a bottle of whiskey in his hand. He heard Simmons tell the bartender that he was 21 years old and that his name was Art Johnson.

John Shea was called to the stand. He said he saw Simmons get a half pint of whiskey and a glass of beer. Shea is 23 years of age and is not the size of either of the two boys.

Shea was examined by Attorney Alderman. Shea said he knew the bartender he had seen on the boys' first visit and could identify him. Shea said he had gone into the National to tell Zimmer that a woman in the alley did not want her boy, a dishwasher, to be in the saloon. Attorney Alderman asked Shea if he used drugs, which the witness denied. Mr. Alderman asked Shea if he had used the words, "They (meaning bartenders at the National), got their hot heads up and he would show them something," which he denied.

City Attorney Haggard asked the name of the dish washer boy and Shea said it was Davis. Shea said the mother of the boy had told him to tell Zimmer to keep her boy out of the saloon.

Capt. N. W. Olson said he saw O'Connor and Simmons at 12:30 in the evening and they were intoxicated. He had seen Simmons drunk before. Simmons had the reputation of getting drunk.

Mr. Alderman examined Capt. Olson and the latter admitted that the National hotel bar was an orderly one. Two complaints about Simmons and O'Connor had reached the police department. The proprietor of a pool room (Alderman Hess) had complained of their being disorderly and raising a disturbance.

Alderman Hess said both boys were drunk.

Capt. Olson said he had been informed at 6 o'clock and later that the boys were drunk.

Joseph Zimmer, proprietor of the National hotel, was put on the stand and the defense then had its inning. Mr. Zimmer said the boys had turned their faces from him when they passed out. He asserted positively that the porter had asked their ages. He had instructed bartenders in all cases to inquire for ages and that if there was any doubt, even when legal age was claimed, that no liquor was to be served. He said Shea came to him and said somebody had gone out and that the dishwasher was going to be "pinched." Shea had come in and had said, "I'll put you wise about something." Shea was drunk, said Mr. Zimmer. He told Shea to go out on that account. Shea, said Zimmer, (Continued on page 4)

New Officers for 1914 and Plans Several Pleasure Trips for the Coming Summer Months

The Adzuman Club, an organization of all the members of the Mystic Shrine in this city to the number of 40 or 50, held their annual meeting on Thursday evening at their club rooms in the Iron Exchange building and elected the following officers:

President—Dr. A. W. Ide. Vice President—Carl Zapffe. Second Vice President—N. H. Ingersoll.

Recorder—G. W. Chadbourne. Treasurer—George W. Grewcox.

Only Trying to Play. A visitor who had an exalted opinion of his golf ability was extended the courtesy of the club, and the first day he went over the beautiful course in the highlands accompanied by a bright caddy. He had succeeded in burying his ball in every bunker, gully and burn on or near the links when he turned to the caddy and said, "Really, this is the most difficult course I have ever played on." "Hoo dae ye ken?" asked the caddy gravely. "Ye havena played on it yet."—Glasgow News.

Makes Better Food

Cold Water and Prayers.

Kyoto, Japan, abounds in picturesque temples and quaint shrines, but perhaps no more interesting or beautiful spot will be found than a small shrine below the Kiyomizudera. In the valley beneath this temple is the Otawano-Taki, a small stream springing out of the rocks, led through bamboo pipes and splashing on to the paving stones in front of the shrine below, says the Strand Magazine. On these the devout kneel reverently, sometimes for thirty or forty minutes, with cold water playing on their backs, supplicating the deity of the shrine for the safety and welfare of some beloved friend or relative.

mer, went out and threatened to "fix him." Shea then telephoned for the police. Zimmer said the porter was on duty when the boys came in. He had instructed him not to give liquor to anyone, even if such person said he was 21 but did not look to be of that age.

Mr. Zimmer said he was a stranger in Brainerd. He started in business here September 16. He was conforming with the law.

Theodore Prescott, a bartender at the National, was called and Prescott said he had not seen O'Connor or Simmons in the saloon from 1 to 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 11 in the evening.

Orville Mussulman said he was at the bar at Zimmer's orders while the latter was at supper.

A boilermaker helper and a machinist, who were in the saloon at the time, testified. Mr. Cody said the man at the bar had asked the boys' ages. The machinist said Shea was under the influence of liquor or a drug. Shea had "batted" in on a pool game. He said the bartender asked the boys' ages before he sold any beer.

Mayor R. A. Henning took the stand. He said he had gone to the National hotel and had seen Shea. The latter had been in a row outside the saloon and claimed he had been struck.

Attorney Alderman, in closing up the case, said the boys had been getting "booze". Zimmer was a new man in Brainerd, had tried to conduct a good and orderly place and it would be a great hardship for him to lose his place, for without the saloon the hotel would have to quit business. The boys had gotten liquor before Mr. Zimmer came to town. They had caused the police much trouble. He thought that with the airing this case had gotten in the papers and the publicity given Simmons and O'Connor that not a saloon keeper in the city would henceforth take the risk of allowing either one in their saloons.

Mayor Henning said Simmons had been arrested more than once. Simmons' and O'Connors' parents had seen him and pleaded that the authorities should help to save their boys. Laws against selling to minors should be enforced.

On Alderman Haake's motion to revoke the Zimmer license, the council voted:

Excused from voting—Alderman Betzold.

To revoke—Aldermen Anderson, Haake and Gallupe.

Not to revoke—Aldermen Mahlum, Stallman, Smith, Hess, Peterson and Lagerquist. The motion to revoke the license was lost.

The fire committee was instructed to fix up the East Brainerd hose house.

The council went on record as favoring the purchase of a home for helpless, poor people, having in view the two-story and basement building near the old ball park on the river. There are five lots there and a good barn. The building was valued at $6,000 and the barn was worth at least $1,200. In addition there was a lot of furniture in the building. The whole can probably be secured for about one-third the original price. The matter was referred to the purchasing committee to report on at the next council meeting.

A woman in Northeast Brainerd, owner of a home in the city and a house in Red Wing, had asked for aid from the city. Alderman Smith mentioned that she was partially irresponsible. The home in the city had a $100 mortgage on it held by Henry I. Cohen. Mr. Smith had tried several times to rent the building for her to other tenants and make it a paying proposition for the old lady, but each time she interfered with the renters. Her case may be referred to the probate court, when a guardian may be appointed for her. Interest was due on the Brainerd place and it might be foreclosed. On motion the committee who had gathered supplies and clothing, and which was stored at Alderman Peterson's store, was ordered turned over to the old lady for her support.

A citizen asked that a lateral sewer be constructed in block 19 of Far- and Forsythe's addition in Northeast Brainerd.

The council gave the first reading, all voting aye, to an ordinance providing that electric light wiring and other wiring be done according to the underwriters code.

Startling Exclusive Improvements Mark the 1914 Harley-Davidson

Step-Starter—Selective Two-Speed—Double Brake Control—Double Control of Free Wheel—Folding Foot Boards—Ful-Floteing Seat, and Other Improvements.

Step-Starter Starts Machine With Rider in the Saddle and Both Wheels on the Ground

THE 1914 Harley-Davidson is marked for the innovations it presents. Innovations, but not experiments, for every feature has stood the test of months and months of hard road service. The Step-Starter—an exclusive feature—furnishes the only practical method of starting a motorcycle. If the rider accidentally stalls the motor it is no longer necessary to hold up traffic on a crowded street, find a level place in the road, get off in the mud, and set the machine on the stand to start it. A downward push on either pedal and the motor again begins to throb.

Selective Type of Two-Speed

The Harley-Davidson selective type of two-speed has proven itself to be exceptionally reliable, extremely simple and wonderfully efficient. Its housing inside the rear hub, thus avoiding dust, dirt or damage. Its speeds are selective and the rider can shift from low to high or high to low or to neutral at any time whether the machine is standing still or in motion.

Double Brake Control

The new Harley-Davidson Band Brake may be operated by a foot lever on the right foot board or by back pedaling on either pedal.

Double Control of Free Wheel

Free Wheel Control is operated by hand or foot. With his hands on the handle-bars the rider has complete control of the 1914 Harley-Davidson.

Folding Foot Boards

The Harley-Davidson foot boards are unusually long permitting a great variety of positions according to the height of the rider. This overcomes the great objection to the ordinary type of foot boards built only to fit the ordinary man. With the Harley-Davidson foot boards whether the rider is tall or short he is not forced to assume an uncomfortable position.

Ful-Floteing Seat

For the third successive year the Ful-Floteing Seat is standard. This patented device floats the weight of the rider between two concealed springs, assimilating all jars and vibration due to rough roads.

Other Refinements

Over thirty desirable improvements are noticeable on the new Harley-Davidson.

The Harley-Davidson selective type of two-speed has proven itself to be exceptionally reliable, extremely simple and wonderfully efficient. Its housing inside the rear hub, thus avoiding dust, dirt or damage. Its speeds are selective and the rider can shift from low to high or high to low or to neutral at any time whether the machine is standing still or in motion.

Folding Foot Boards

The Harley-Davidson foot boards are unusually long permitting a great variety of positions according to the height of the rider.
